Continuation Sheet (PTO-303)

Application No. 09/749,940

Continuation of 3. NOTE: New limitations including, "wherein manipulation of management attributes comprises sending control signals to the managed object representation being managed" (claim 1) will require further consideration and possibly search.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments are not persuasive. Applicant's claim language requires an interpretation encompassing all of the originally filed disclosure not what the disclosure "could", "may" or "might" encompass. Therefore, Applicant's claim language lays claim to signals and software as being the embodiment of the invention. The original disclosure doesn't limit these items out, it actually expands to include them. Newly filed limitations would require further consideration and possibly search. In regard to claim 22, the previous Final Office Action (mailed 05 September 2006) addressed the issue on pages 26-27. Therefore, the rejections are maintained as previously indicated.
